HUMAN SKILLS

Leadership & coordination
For six years at Cyclofix, I managed the recruitment and onboarding of more than 1,000 independent workers. I learned how to set a clear framework, support different profiles, and keep a team moving even under pressure.

Resilience & composure
My last projection event (December 2025): the European premiere of AVATAR, with James Cameron, 300 contractors, and the pressure of a flawless screening for press and influencers. In that context, you learn to stay calm, anticipate issues, and find solutions in real time.

Communication & listening
Years working with demanding clients—Netflix, Amazon Prime, Canal+—taught me to truly listen, understand what is not explicitly said, and adapt my communication. As a developer, it helps me ask the right questions, understand what a PM or client really wants, and avoid costly misunderstandings..

Attention to detail & UX
My background in cinema and projection trained my eye for technical detail and the viewer experience. Every frame matters; every transition should feel smooth.
